For purists, the Wailea Gold is aptly named. Long and lush, this rugged beauty is a definite must-see, must-play.

Created by Robert Trent Jones II, the par-72 course is a masterfully designed layout that undulates with its natural terrain and offers a robust, but fair, test of golf.

Immaculately maintained, the Gold winds its way among lava rock outcroppings, between Kiawe and Wiliwili trees, through roughs of indigenous grasses, and past ancient rock walls preserved for their historic significance. The keys to its conquest lie in strategy, finesse and accuracy...and shutting out distractions. Every hole offers irresistible vistas of sunlight dancing on ocean waves, or whales breaching offshore, or the volcano reaching to the sky.

Each winter, the Wailea Gold challenges an elite handful of the most legendary professionals in the world at the prestigious Champions Skins Game. But non-professionals, take heart. Four to six tee boxes on every hole make it a friendly track for golfers of all handicaps. And, the views and culinary offerings at the clubhouse make for a perfect ending to every round.

The Wailea Emerald Course is candy for the eyes and therapy for the soul. Lush and inviting, this par-72 Robert Trent Jones II creation is designed for pure enjoyment.

Four to six tee boxes on every hole let players tailor their round to their personal playing level. Few forced carries and generous landing areas offer forgiveness for errant shots. And an abundance of panoramic ocean views and fragrant tropical blossoms intoxicate the senses.

Its stunning beauty aside, the Wailea Emerald is ranked among the finest courses in the country, with numerous accolades for its skillful design and overall experience. To play it well requires attention to distance and elevation, and one of its most notable features is a double green on holes 10 and 17, one of few in Hawaii.

The Wailea Emerald shares with the Gold Course a well stocked golf-shop, rated one of America's best, as well as an outstanding 12-acre training facility. All three of Wailea's layouts are ranked among the top courses in North America by Golf Digest.

The perennially popular Blue Course is Wailea's quintessential resort layout. Its verdant turf, exotic blossoms and serene fountains have enamored an army of fans whose devotion has made this Arthur Jack Snyder design one of Maui's most popular.

The Wailea Blue is marked by open fairways and challenging greens. Formerly the site of two televised professional golf tournaments, the par-72 Blue is skillfully designed to be enjoyed by a broad range of players. The course meanders through much of Wailea, weaving up and down gentle slopes carpeted by tropical flora, and affords impressive vistas of the sapphire Pacific Ocean, magnificent volcanic slopes and Maui's offshore islands.

Rated one of the best golf resorts in America by Golf Digest and Golf Magazine, Wailea is renown for its scenic splendor, eternal summer-like days and legendary spirit of aloha.
